ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION. A Social Entertainment was given at the Council room on Tuesday evening, the 26th instant, in commemoration of the organization of Goldsboro' Council, No. 43; this institution having attained its first anniversary on the 24th of the present month.

The business portion of the entertainment was presided over with great dignity by Bro. Associate President N. P. Clingman. The Chairman announced Bros. J. B. Whitaker, Jr., and J. R. Morris as the speakers for the occasion, who then delivered short addresses on Temperance. After the speaking was completed, a "hand-round" of candies, apples, raisins, nuts, and lots o' goodies, took place, when the ladies and gentlemen commingled together and all had a good time generally.

☞ In reply to the inquiries of our correspondent, Comperio, relative to the little interest manifested in the cause of Temperance by the Ministers of the Gospel and professors of Christianity in this community, we can only say that the matter is as complete a mystery to us as to him. For the enlightment of our correspondent and of the puqlic generally, we respectfully invite a communication from some one of this class of our citizens on the subject.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.—Before you acquire a taste for whiskey insure your life, and take a farewell of your family. Whiskey is a certain death. It is only a question of time.

For the 'News Temperance Department.'

GOLDSBORO', N. C.,
February 1st, 1869.

BRO. WHITAKER, JR.,:—Exultingly peering through the sorrow-wreathed cloud of dissipation the undimmed ray of temperance has kindly thrown its sustaining halo of protection over the first anniversary of Council 43, F. of T. Notwithstanding this, since my last communication most seriously have I been reflecting on the very many disadvantages undew which we are so assiduously laboring. In our rum-besieged town of but three thousand souls are boldly dotted nine bar-rooms, where brandy-smashes, gin-cocktails and whiskey-punches constitute the absorbing theme and present their deceptive appearance to the unsuspecting rustic and accustomed citizen, alike. If those who have perished at the unrighteous shrine of alcohol were permitted to recross the shadowy river and visit earth again, to-day from the spirit land would depart a shrouded army from whose pale lips unforgiving curses would forever fall on the advocates of wine-retailing—from the grey streaks of morning that dully paint the doorway of the east to the lurid decline of day far westward, would revengefully resound the sepulchral tocsin of the grim caravan.

The black winged angel of death holds his sleepless vigil above the wine cup and darkly pointing his fleshless hand to the purple drink, invites the unguarded to its shining brim: while on the other hand, the humane voice of the spirit of life pityingly whispers

Touch it not for hidden graves,
Buried in its crimson waves,
Sleep forever;
Every drop therein contained,
Keeps a soul to sorrow chained:
Touch it, never!

Yet how often is the latter admonition unheeded; even disregarded by those who possess close discernment and an entire knowledge of the fatal sequel to a debauched life. Man has been given unlimited power in discriminating between right and wrong; still, with these benevolent bestowments, how many carelessly allow themselves to drift along the current of intemperance until suddenly descending the treacherous chasm to which it surely leads, they pass from a career of transgression, and are no longer known.

Fraternally yours,
COMPERIO.

From the Independent.

Moderate Drinkers stop—stop and think what you are doing; I was once a moderate drinker and now I want to have a friendly chat with you.

Do you know, moderate drinkers, that you are sending hundreds and thousands of women and children to the alms-house? do you know that you are filling our prisons all over our land with your unfortunate victims? And still worse, do you know that you are robbing wives of their husbands and making of them those that fill our Asylum's, and in many cases they become prostitutes in order that they may keep their children from want, and that many o them fill untimely graves.

Do you know that some one is paterning after you? Do you know that some boy has been watching you, and has said that he intends to be just such a man as you are? that he too will have his Beer, Ale, and Sherry, and that very resolution formed by observing your action will lead him to ruin? Do you know that some boy, unless reclaimed, will fill a drunkard's grave? And did you ever think that it is you that keeps the drunkard from reforming? We say to him when we meet him, come, friend and join the temperance army, and be a sober man and an ornament in society, his answer is I am just as good as neighbor (A,) he drinks all he wants, and I do no more; why don't he join? "Well but he don't get drunk." "That is only because he can stand more than I can, or that he has control of his appetite, and can stop when he wants to." Now if you will get him to join your army, I will, and as long as he will leave off his social glass, I will my cup. Then when we come to you, and lay the case before you, and point to you his beautiful wife and helpless children clothed in rags and deprived of bread, because of the degrading cup, and I ask you for his sake, and for the sake of humanity, to leave off your glass; you will say I can't help it, I am not to blame I have not charge of him, or family. No, but you have an influence over him, that if exerted right, would save him from ruin; still you will say I can't help it. Stop moderate for one moment, and think what you are doing and what you can do.—You are separating husbands and wives, you are making widows and orphans, you are filling our poor houses, our States prison, and you are filling thousands of graves, with untimely victims, and sending their souls to perdition. You can reform your self, and help others to reform, you can make sad hearts glad, by leading those wretched mortals to a place of safety and reform; you can stop to a great extent the tide of intemperance, you can warn others to shun the dreadful cup. Which will you do, continue in the way of destruction, or will you join the temperance reform? I think I hear you say, I will from this time on, be a tetotaler, and give my influence to the temperance reform and to help stay the tide of intemperance that is now sweeping over our beloved country, like a mighty flood, carrying misery and want, in all its dealings. Will you give your voice and your voto against this mighty destroyer? We hope you will, and that we may have the pleasure of meeting you in our Lodge room with the whole armor on, battling for the temperance reformation.

Goldsborough News.

WEDNESDAY FEB. 3, 1869.

☞ The Committee of Investigation on Fraud and Corruption, which was raised in our Legislature in December last, upon the charge of Senator Sweet, of Craven, that he could prove in "five minutes" that fraud and corruption did exist in the Legislature, have, after six or eight weeks labor, made a report, which will be found below, proving clearly that not the slightest ground for these charges ever existed. But one member, (Mr. Robbins, of Rowan,) is found to be in any way connected with any improper transaction, and he, being a lawyer, claims to have received the money as a legal fee.

We feel gratified that the honor of North Carolina remains untarnished, and that the suspicions which have rested upon the members of the Legislature, by these charges, have been proven false. There is but one course left for honorable Senators, and that is to rise above party, hold the traducers to a strict account, and if they are unable to give good reasons for thus assailing their honor, expel them:

BRIBERY.

Report of the Committee on Bribery and Corruption--Mr. Robbins, receives twenty dollars to put a measure through the Senate.

RALEIGH, 23d January, 1869.

To the Honorable the Speaker of the House and the Honorable the President of the Senate:

GENTLEMAN:—Your Committee submit herewith the testimony they have taken. They would report that several persons who have been summoned as witnessed have failed to appear. Your Committee would respectfully beg to be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

SAMUEL FORKNER.

The undersigned, a minority of your Committee, deem it proper to state in connection with Senator Robbins' case, that Mr. Stephens was summoned at the request of that Senator, who had previously (on Monday the 18th inst.) submitted a voluntary statement of the transaction, which is fully corroborated by the evidence of Mr. Stephens; further that they regard the transaction as an inadvertence on the part of Senator Robbins, and in this opinion acquit him of intentional wrong.

L. G. ESTES.
W. H. S. SWEET.
JNO. GATLING.
J. W. BOWMAN.

EVIDENCE OF MR. JOHN W. STEPHENS.

Question by Mr. Sweet—Were you interested in the passage of any resolution of this General Assembly at its first session, and if so, what resolution?

Answer—I was, in two. The first was a resolution from the Committee on Privileges and Elections; the second was a resolution introduced by Mr. Welker to allow me my per diem and mileage while contesting the Hon. Bedford Brown's seat in the Senate.

Question by Mr. Sweet—Did you have any conversation with Senator Robbins in regard to the resolution giving you per diem and mileage, if so repeat in detail, that conversation?

Answer—I did, after the resolution was lost on Friday night. On Saturday morning, the 22d of August, I met Mr. Robbins in the lobby and asked his opinion as to my getting my per diem and mileage. He said he was in favor of it and would vote for it. I asked him if he could get a reconsideration of the matter, and told him that if he would I should satisfy him for it. He said he would try.—I then told him that if he succeeded I would pay him $20. This took place a short time before the question came up again in the Senate. Mr. Robbins did appear in my behalf and I succeeded in getting my per diem, when I paid Mr. Robbins the $20.

Question by Mr. Gatling—Did you consider, at the time you made this offer to Mr. Robbins, that you were employing him as a lawyer or that you were offering him a bribe for his vote?

Answer—I said to Mr. Robbins, during the conversation above alluded to, "You are a lawyer and I know that lawyers work for money." I considered I was not paying him for his vote because he had already stated to me that he expected to vote for me.

Question by Mr. Gatling—How long were you engaged in talking to Mr. Robbins on the subject?

Answer—We had but one conversation on the subject which was in the lobby, and it lasted not more than five minutes.

Question by Mr. Gatling—Did Mr. Robbins intimate to you that he desired to return that money to you, and for what reason?

Answer—Yes, he came to me, in my seat in the Senate, after the adjournment, and said he desired to return me the money, for he considered it wrong that he should keep it.

Question by Mr. Gatling—Do you recollect about what time it was that he offered to return the money?

Answer—About two weeks ago to the best of my recollection.

Question by Mr. Gatling—At the time this transaction took place, was there any word said between you and Mr. Robbins about keeping the matter secret?

Answer—There was not.

CHIRIQUI IMAGES.—We have had the pleasure of examining a quantity of gold received by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., from Honduras, in payment for their medicines, which are extensively sold throughout Central America. Among massive crosses, bracelets, and chains, are the rude images which have been taken from the graves of the Chiriqui chiefs—birds, turtles, serpents, bug and reptiles done in solid gold. They carry us back beyond historic times, to periods and places where barbarism reigned supreme. They seem to come here now in mute appeal from the winding sheets of their ancestors, to ask for the simple Indians in the mountains, medical protection from cultivated skill, against diseases which gather them up in too early graves. Ignorant and unlettered as they are, they have learned of the white man enough to know where to apply for relief, and what will bring it. Our well known townsmen, as above named, inform us that they require their remittances from foreign countries now to be made in silver and gold—Lowell (Mass.) Sentinel.

PAIN KILLER.

NORTHAMPTON, March 11, 1867.

Dear Sir:—I wish to add to your numerous testimonials. Last September, while at work cutting sole-leather with a die and a heavy iron mallet I made a mis ttrike, and the mallet came down with its whole force on my thumb, splitting it from the first joint entirely open, and laid the bone bare. I supposed I had ruined my thumb forever; but I thought of your Pain Killer, as I had often heard of its healing qualities. I went about a half a mile, and obtained a small bottle. I saturated a little cotton batting, first winding a waxed thread around the wound, and applied the Pain Killer, saturating the bandage two or three times a day. In five minutes the pain ceased, and in a week it entirely healed up; and I will say that I have never seen anything for healing qualities that equalled it; and I would earnestly recommend it to the public as a pain killer and a healer

Yours truly, R. T CLAFLIN.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo Juniper Berries, by d stillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspectation, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations. Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and oder, "immediate" in action, and more strenghtening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Farm for Rent for 1869.

I OFFER MY FARM NEAR ROCKY POINT Depot, on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, for rent for the year 1869.

Truck farmers would find this place very desirable for their operations.

It is situated at a convenient distance from the above mentioned depot.

The land is of the best quality and under good fence. With good seasons it is capable of producing forty bushels of corn to the acre.

There are about forty acres cleared, suitable for the production of pea nuts.

The dwelling is a two story frame building, with six rooms, in good condition, with a kitchen attached.

A cistern capable of holding 3,000 or 4,000 gallons of water is close to the house.

To one desiring to rent the place I would sell all the stock, horses, mules, hogs, cows and calves, with all the farming utencils. Also, corn, fodder, &c.

To a good farmer, and one who would keep the place in good order, favorable terms would be given.

If a satisfactory price could be had I would prefer to sell the farm. My motive a desire to move to the Western part of the State.

Rocky Point Postoffice.

CRESCENT GAS GENERATOR.—Messrs. Winslow & Adams have presented us with a specimen of this new light, which is destined to take a prominent place among the great lights of modern invention. The lamp generates its own gas, and by applying a blaze to the jet holes, it ignites as the regular gas, and for beauty and brilliancy is equal to it. The great advantage these lamps possess over kerosine lamps is,the perfect security from accidents. From experiments made in our presence the usual dangers attending the burning fluids need not be apprehended. The light is mild and brilliant, and the cleanliness of the whole establishment adds to its worth.

Messrs. Winslow & Adams can change the burner to your present lamp at a very small cost, and will furnish the oil, a supply of which they will keep constantly on hand, at the very low price of 50 cents per gallon. If you want a beautiful, brilliant, safe and cheap light, go at once and have the burners of your lamps changed.

☞ The Agricultural Convention held in Wilmington, on Friday, was attended by a large delegation from many counties of this State, and a respectable delegation from South Carolina was present. The Star of Saturday says:

The meeting may well be called an enthusiastic, one, fraught with much future benefit to this and the surrounding counties. A good many prominent gentlemen lent a force to the meeting by their attendance, and our own merchants evinced an interest truly gratifying.

The day passed off agreeably, and the useful business transacted was made the more interesting by several good practical talks.

Agriculture demands atttention, and if the enthusiasm kindled is not permitted to die out, our people will yet proudly point to the day that gave birth to the Cape Fear Agricultural Association.

We are informed by a reliable gentleman, that fifteen farmers from Wilson county will spend in our city at least $6000. We mention this to show how wise was Col. Fremont's generosity in allowing delegates a free passage over his road, for to this liberality and to the meeting, we owe the introduction into our midst of so sudden and influx of capital.

The farmers in Wilson, and that section, have heretofore been accustomed to trade with Norfolk, Va., and if we offer the proper inducements we can secure our home trade to ourselves.

Long may the subject of agriculture engross the public mind.

We were pleased to learn that Wayne County was represented by some twenty or more delegates.

DEATH OF W. N. DROMGOOL.—It is with feelings of profound sadness that we announce the death of one well known to us all—WILLIAM NICK DROMGOOL—who died after an illness of several months, on Sunday evening last, the 31st ult., at the residence of the late Dr. Jno. W. Davis. Mr. Dromgool was a native of Virginia, but for many years has made Goldsboro' his home, where he made many warm friends by the kindness of his heart, and great suavity of manner. But he is no more. Taken from the business and bustle of active life; from its absorbing cares and engrossing interests, he has gone to meet the changed scenes and untried realities of the spirit land.

His remains were consigned to the grave on Tuesday, by Wayne Lodge of Masons, of which he was an upright and consistent member.

MRS. GEN. GRANT is said to have the smallest foot of any lady in Washington.

SELECT VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERTS.—Our citizens will be delighted to know that Mr. William E. Morgan will commence a series of Select Vocal and Instrumental Concerts, at the Town Hall, on Saturday night next. He has just returned from New York, where he succeeded in securing the assistance of the Cleveland Sisters, whose performances in the Northern cities have been greeted with unparalleled success.

Miss Lizzie has never failed to draw forth continued applause. Her voice is just such a bird-like warble as we would expect to find in so sweet a fairy, and she renders her songs with much taste and a most delicious abandon.

Miss Mollie possesses a sweet, mellow voice, with a wonderful exhuberance of spirit and natural vivacity, which renders her so irresistible, and by which means she springs into our hearts, as it were, with a bound. No one ever has to ask himself a second time whether he likes her or not, for she, in the most delightful manner possible, leads her audience willing captives at first sight—and who would be churlish enough to refuse to render homage at the shrine of youth and beauty.

Prof. Harry Pierce, who stands at the head of his profession, will preside at the Piano, and will also lead on the violin, He is said to be a fine singer, who with Mr. Morgan himself, whose fine personal appearance, inexpressible grace of movement, and modest assertion of conscious prowess, make up one of the most brilliant concert parties that ever appeared before a Goldsboro' audience.

The performances will be appropriately put upon the stage. It is needless to say this, however, for it is the proud distinction of Mr. Morgan to place nothing before his audience slovenly appointed.

We hope to see a full house to greet the opening series, assuring our readers they will be amply repaid for braving even the most inclement weather.

☞ The new firm of Powell & Blount, at the old stand of Washington & Powell, have in store a full assortment of staple and fancy goods, which they offer at very low prices for cash. These goods were selected by the senior member of the firm, in person, whose long experience in mercantile business makes him a first rate judge of goods.

☞ MESSRS. B. M. PRIVETT & Co., have opened a Commission and Forwarding House in Goldsboro', and solicit shipments of Produce from our Farmers. We know Mr. Privett personally, and can assure our readers that their interests will be carefully guarded, and their produce made to bring satisfactory returns.—One of the partners will remain in Baltimore, to superintend their business in person.

MARRIED.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

WAYNE LODGE, No. 112.
Goldsboro', Feb. 2, 1869.

WHEREAS, The hand of death has removed from our midst our esteemed brother, WM. N. DROMGOOLE; Therefore

Be it Resolved, That in his death, the Fraternity is called upon to mourn the loss of one of its most consistent members, whose exemplary conduct during his sojourn among us, meets our entire approbation,and we commend for emulation his manly virtues and genial manners that won for him the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved kindred, our heartfelt condolence in this the hour of their deep affliction; and we fain would offer consolation in the hope that "he is not dead, but sleepeth," with the fondly cherished belief that his temporal abode has been exchanged for a blissful immortality in the celestial Lodge above.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect to the memory of our deceased brother, we will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge, and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, living in Isle of Wight County, Va., and that they be published in the Goldsboro' NEWS.

FRUIT TREES.—In view of the vast amount of money made by the shipment of fruit to the Northern cities, it is the duty of every farmer to plant an orchard. The best variety of trees should always be planted, and our friend Lindley, who has supplied this portion of the State with trees, for many years, has established an agency in Goldsboro', where can be obtained choice fruit trees in any quantity. Apply to Dr. Wm. H. Moore.

☞ The torch-light procession to be given by Goldsboro' Council, No. 43, F. of T., has been postponed to Friday night, the 12th inst.

The publication of the Independent Press has been transferred from Concord to Morganton, N. C.

A destructive fire occurred in Wilmington on Tuesday last.

The fame of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS has no parallel in the history of Medicine. The thousands upon thousands of bottles that are made and sold daily is but proof positive of their wonderful virtues.—Thousands of Certificates can be produced showing the efficacy and certainty of the cures which they effect, and the Medical Fraternity, usually so jealous of anything which causes persons to think and doctor for themselves, are compelled to acknowledge their wonderful virtues, and prescribe them under other names. They are sold by all druggists.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

[From the Prov. Gen. Advertiser.]

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "Pain Killer," may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found ite way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized.—Moreover, there is no climate to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; and as a special and unsurpassed remedy, speedy and safe, for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and local complaints generally it is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact, that notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unfashionable; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery, by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is at this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.

MARRIAGES IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCHES.—The Most Rev. Archbishop Spalding has issued a circular letter to the clergy on the subject of the celebration of marriage in the churches. He urges that the marriage be celebrated at the Holy Mass, as that usually takes place at an early hour, with much more decorum and solemnity, as well as with greater privacy and less parade. That, he says, will be in much better taste, and much more in conformity with the spirit of the Catholic Church.—To prevent abuses in the contrary direction, he enjoins that whenever a marriage is to take place without the Holy Mass, and the officiating clergyman has reason to anticipate a large attendance of the curious, who will be likely to conduct themselves in the church of God with little more decorum than they would in an exhibition or in a theatre, he shall insist, as a preliminary condition to interposing his ministry, that the attendance shall be confined to a limited number, to be admitted only by card of invitation, when both the contracting parties are Catholics, the marriage is always to be celebrated in the church, unless the residence of the bride be at least three miles distant from the church.—Baltimore Gazette.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

New York Nov. 3, 1868.

To the People of the Southern States.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen — Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principle ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty. a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal.—No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introductions and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison

The public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequalled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travelers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, by comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificate from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq, Present:

DEAR SIR: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Sign d.) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

NEW YORK, 53 CEDAR STREET,

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present;

DEAR SIR: I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification; that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 1.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq:

DEAR SIR: The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medicinal purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise, We remain your obedient servants,

A Naughty Little Girl's Views of Life.

[From the Chicago Times.]

I'm only a little girl, but I think I have as much right to say what I want to about things as a boy. I hate boys; they're so mean; they always grab all the strawberries at the dinner table, and never tell us when they are going to have any fun. Only I like Gus Rogers. The other day Gus told me he was going to let off some fireworks, and he let Bessie Nettle and me go and look at them. All of us live in a hotel, and his mother's room has a window with a balcony. His mother was gone out to buy some creme de lis to put on her face, and he'd went and got eleven boxes of lucifer matches, and ever so many pieces of castile soap; he steeled them from the housekeeper.

Just when she went to put them in her closet, Gus went and told her Mrs. Nettle wanted her a minute, and while she was gone he grabbed the soap and matches, and when she came back he watched her; and she got real mad, and she scolded Della (that is the chambermaid), and said she knowed she did it, and I was real glad, because when I was turning somersets on my mother's bed the other day, Della slapped me, and said she wasn't going to make the bed two times to please me; then Bessie and me stucked the matches in the soap like ten pins, and Gus fired them off, and they blazed like anything, and they made an awful smell, and Gus went and turned a little gas on so's his mother would think it was that.

We get our dinner with the nurses, cause the man that keeps the hotel charges full price for the children if they sit at the table in the big dining-room. Once my mother let me go down with her, and I talked a heap at the table, and a gentleman that sat next to us said, "Little girls should be seen and not heard." The mean old thing died last week, and I was real glad, and I told Della so, and she said if I went and said things like that I couldn't go to Heaven. Much she knows about it; and I wouldn't want to go if dirty things like she is went there. Yesterday Mary, our nurse, told Bessie Nettle's nurse that she heard Larry Finnegan was going to marry her. Larry is one of the waiters, and he saves candles for me from the big dining-room; and Bessie Nettle's nurse said, "Oh, Lord! what a lie!" and Bessie Nettle went into her mother's room, and her little brother said she nipped him, and Bessie said, "Oh, Lord! what a lie!" and you should have heard how her mother did talk to her, and went and shut her up in a dark room where she kept her trunks, and did'nt let her have nothing but bread and water; and Gus Rogers went and yelled through the keyhole, and said, "Bessie, the devil is coming to fetch you," and Bessie screamed and almost had a fit, and her mother told Mrs. Rogers, and got Gus locked, and Gus says he's a mind to set the house on fire some day, and burn her out.

One day I went into the parlor and creeped under the sofa, and there wasn't nobody there. They don't let dogs nor children go into the parlor, and I think it's real mean; and I had to creep under the sofa, so nobody could see me; and Mr. Boyce came in, and Miss Jackson; she said one day that children was worse nuisance than dogs. And Mr. Boyce and Miss Jackson came in and sitted down on the sofa; and he said, "O Louisa, I do love you so much," and then he kissed her, for I heard it smack.—And then she said, "O Thomas, I do wish I could believe you; don't you never kiss anybody else?" And he said, "No, dearest," and I yelled out, "Oh, what a big story!" for I saw him kiss Bessie Nettle's nurse in the hall one night, when the gas was turned down. Did'nt he jump up? you bet; and he pulled me out and tored my frock, and he said, "Oh, you wicked child, where do you expect to go for telling such stories?" and I told him, "You shut up, I ain't going anywhere with you." I wish that man would die like the other one, so I do; and I don't care whether he goes to heaven or not.

Clara Rogers's mother had a lunch party in her parlor, and they had champagne, and they never gave him any; and when his mother wasn't looking, he found a bottle half full on the sideboard, and he stealed it, and took it in our nursery; and Mary wasn't there, and Gus and me drinked it out of the glass Mary brushes her teeth in; and it was real nice; and we looked in Mary's wardrobe and found her frock she goes to church in; and Gus put it on, and Mary's bonnet too; and we went in the hall, and we tumbled down and tored Mary's frock, and made my nose bleed; and Gus said, "Oh, there's a earthquake!" cause we couldn't stand up; and you should see how the house did go up and down—awful; and Gus and me laid down on the carpet, and the housekeeper picked me up and looked me to my mother's room, and my mother said, "Oh, my! whatever have you been doing?" and I said, "Oh, Lord! I drinked champagne out of Gus Rogers's mother's bottle, in the glass that Mary brushes her teeth in." And the housekeeper says, "Oh, my goodness gracious! that child's as tight as bricks;" and I said, "You bet; bully for you;" and then I was awful sick, and I've forgot what else.

WELL SAID.—The Native Virginian says a friend in Richmond closes a recent letter thus:

"By the way, what is to become of the ladies and gentlemen of Virginia, born to affluence, with refined tastes, but now bereft of means? I wish you would treat the subject, as you can so well, in your paper."

There is but one way to treat the subject. We know a young gentleman in whose veins the best blood of Virginia and South Carolina is mingled. He was a good soldier, for he loves war and hates farming. On the hottest days in summer we have seen him, hoe in hand, sleeves rolled up, arms bare to the elbow, working like a steam engine from dawn until dark. This man, by pluck, by industry, and by prudence, will win back what his fathers won before him by means of the same qualities. Not the pride of race, but the strength of blood, will make him a master again. Such a man will not be kept down. As for those Virginia ladies and gentleman who will not stoop to conquer, (that fact alone throws a doubt on the purity of their blood,) they will live and die miserably, and their children will be chambermaids and hostlers to the decendants of Yankee settlers.

"This, I suppose," said a military gentleman, when he was discarded, "is what you would call a transit of Venus?" "Yes," replied the relentless young belle, "and the exit of Mars!"

THE DEVIL IN THE PANTRY.—Near the corner of St. Charles and Thalia streets lives a respectable maiden lady and her niece. The aunt is very precise and very religious—the niece very coquettish, full of life, and the least bit of a romp. At an early hour every night the good lady locks up the house, says her prayers, and retires to rest, blissfully ignorant that her pretty charge is writing love letters up stairs. Being good in the most extended sense of the word, it is not surprising that next to a "man" the evil one is the ancient spinster's abomination. Not so with the blue-eyed coquette; she likes men, and don't care a pin for his cloven hoofed majesty. Indeed a good many of the bad practices ascribed to that ancient memory of mankind finds a pretty lively exponent in a certain little man about town whom the fair niece thinks a perfect love. She thinks that Satan is far more sinned against than sinning. Be that as it may, a few nights since the little maiden had sat up very late inditing a neat billet doux to her sweetheart. Of course she got hungry after awhile. What girl ever failed to get hungry towards 10 o'clock, or didn't find a thrilling pleasure in a stolen visit to the pantry. Not this young lady, at all events. Now the pantry in question adjoined the aunt's sleeping apartment, and was only separated from it by a thin partition. She would have to be very careful, therefore, to avoid detection. But something to eat was indispensable, and the niece crept cautiously in. Almost the first thing she laid her hands on was a jar of preserves, and these fell to the floor with a crash.

"Mercy! the cat's in the pantry," she heard her relative say, and the next instant the old lady was heard approaching the door, lamp in hand and ready to expel the feline intruder. To escape detection and hide her face, the girl sprang behind the door, but in doing so her head came in contact with a paper of stove-blacking, which strewed its contents over her head and nightgown. Of course, she sprang back with a scream, and as she did so the good lady caught a view of the Moorish-looking face and parti colored nightgown. To her eyes the evil one could only wear a shape so awful. The lamp fell from her hand, and, tumbling over on the floor, she instituted a succession of shrieks that echoed far out in the street. Now was the time for escape and the little maiden tried to run, but the first step she took came in contact with the good aunt's extended pedal extremities, and she, too, rolled on the floor; but quickly regaining her feet, she darted along the hall on her way to her chamber. But as luck would have it, the street door was broken in by the police, alarmed at the aunt's screams, and almost before she knew it the brawny arms of a [illegible] around her, and she was arrested as a burglar. She begged and prayed to be turned loose in vain. The aunt was quieted and confronted with the spectre, which she persisted in believing to be the devil, notwithstanding the piteous appeals of the niece for recognition. Before taking her to the station, however, the officer suggested the propriety of using a little soap and water, and with the aid of this valuable auxiliary the aunt finally discovered her niece, and the services of the police were dispensed with. The young lady, however, declares she will never eat anything after dark again.—N. O. Picayune.

Sometimes a girl says no to an offer, when it is as plain as the nose on her face she means yes. The best way to judge whether she's in earnest or not, is to look straight into her eyes, and never mind her nose.

A young lady walking with a gentleman, stumbled, and when her companion, to prevent her fall, grasped her hand and somewhat tightly, she simpered, "Oh, sir, if it comes to that, you must ask my papa."

HOW TO CURE HAMS.—At the Ohio State Fair, held in Dayton, Mr. J. W. H. Humma, of that place, received a premium for the best hams, which were cured after the following receipt:

Rub the fresh hams with the best salt; put them in a barrel and cover with a brine made of the following proportions of 100 pounds of meat: 1 pound of saltpetre, 4 gallons of water.

Leave the meat in this brine for three or four weeks, then take it out and rub again with dry salt, and put it back in the brine for three or four weeks longer.

If you want sugar cured hams, use two pounds of sugar in the above quantity of brine.

When the meat has been in the brine as above directed, take it out and smoke it with half-green hickory wood, if this can be had. Corn cobs make a great smoke where hickory cannot be had.—Ohio Farmer.

A Connecticut exchange tells the following story of a boy who was sent from Groton, to New London, Connecticut, one day last summer with a bag of green corn to sell. The boy was gone all day and returned with the bag unopened, which he dumped on the floor, saying:

"There is your corn, go and sell it yourself; I can't."

"Sold any?"

"No," said the boy; "I've been all over New London with it, and nobody said anything about green corn.—Two or three fellows asked me what I'd got in my bag, and I told them it was none of their business."

The boy reminds us of business men who are to be found in every community, who do not or will not recognize the benefits of advertising their business.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "Saparity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

AYER'S
Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF
Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of Miasmatic Countries.

We are enabled here to offer the community a remedy which, while it cures the above complaints with certainty, is still perfectly harmless in any quantity. Such a remedy is invaluable in districts where these afflicting disorders prevail. This "CURE" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER AND AGUE from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where FEVER AND AGUE prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.
Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be exerted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.
